Why the first target-phase approximation was rejected before position fitting

Top: constant and local phase derivative removed using native-sigma weights.
Engineering-prior diagnostics; no new position fits or satellite-identity validation.